

I feel that the no-call list and associated laws in the State of Wisconsin are exactly what I, as a consumer, expect. I am not in favor of weakening this protection in any manner.

Besides, isn't it obvious that if I close my bank account or credit card that my mind has already been made up? Any further solicitation should be considered harrassment. Mail me a letter that I can throw away. Job security for the Postal employee and the trash collector!